

A photograph of a Zen garden sand tray. The sand is light beige and has been raked into several concentric, wavy lines that curve across the frame. In the lower right quadrant, a smooth, rounded, grey stone sits on the sand. The lighting is soft, creating gentle shadows that emphasize the texture of the sand and the smooth surface of the stone.

Dios, concédeme la serenidad para aceptar las cosas que no puedo cambiar, valor para cambiar aquéllas que puedo, y sabiduría para reconocer la diferencia.
